Dear Ladies and Gentlemen

I'm very interested in the job offer that you're offering. Even though I'm not specifically looking for a job, I ran into the offer just by coincidence and it caught my eye. Since I've been planning to move to Zurich for quite a while now, I was waiting for a great opportunity to come up. I must say, I instantly felt enthusiastic and excited when I came across your job offer.

I'm currently working as a full stack web developer at Ecrome Group AG in St. Gallen, Switzerland. My tasks consist in maintaining and developing new features for the company's web projects. For instance, I developed a mobile application called "Ja, Ich Will" for the Katholische Kirche Bistum St. Gallen. I have also been involved in working with new frameworks as AngularJs, Laravel and Ionic for hybrid mobile apps.

My strong interest and passion for working in a sports-related sector roots in the past position I held at WhiteBox Office in Almazora, Spain as a web developer and sub-project manager. During my time there, I worked on very large and extensive projects such as the re-launch of the new LFP website (Liga de Fútbol Profesional), which won the Best Sport Website Award given away by the Spanish Ministry of Industry in 2014. I also did maintenance work on the website of the Mutua Madrid Open de Tennis, among other interesting projects.

After finishing my Bachelor of Science in Software Engineering I have gained a lot of experience and curiosity for the latest and newest technologies. During the last three years I have worked in different projects and had many opportunities to gain experience in working with the latest technologies such as AngularJS, JQuery, HTML5, CSS3, PHP. At the same time I was able to increase my experience developing in OOP using MVC frameworks such as Laravel. Therefore, I think my curiosity and my experience could be very beneficial for your company. I take great interest in constantly improving my skills. One good example is my CV you'll find here: <http://albertgracia.com/>
I hope you enjoy my tailor-made CV I developed just this weekend using AngularJs and Angular Material.

My work experience is mainly based on web development. Even though I have more experience in PHP and JavaScript/Jquery, I also have some knowledge in Java, Groovey and Grails Framework from what I've learned during my time as a student in University. I also have some solid knowledge in C# and .Net framework thanks to classes I took back in Uni. Since you are looking for employees that always strive to improve their skills and that have a passion for what they do, I think I could easily fit in and adapt to your companies values and goals.

I feel that I could be a valuable asset to your international and dynamic team.

I hope you give me an opportunity to introduce myself to you in a job interview.

I look forward to hearing from you as soon as possible.

Kind regards,
Albert Gracia
